Stockholm, Auguſt 9. Letters from Carlſcrona of the 3d of this Month adviſe, that Admiral Sparre would uſe his utmoſt Endeavours to get the Fleet ſpeedily refitted, and that he hoped to be at Sea again in 14 Days with at leaſt 10 Men of War. Two Days ago arrived an Expreſs from Gotland, with an Account that laſt Week ſix Muſcovite Frigates landed about 200 Men on that Iſland, and carried off a Miniſter with ſome few Peaſants, without doing any other Harm to the Inhabitants, but told them that they would very ſhortly make them another Viſit. The King had lately given ſecret Orders to Admiral Lewenhaupt to carry through the Belt to Stralſund what Frigates and Gallies he could poſſibly fit out at Gottenberg; accordingly that Admiral ſailed the laſt Week from thence, with 2 Frigates of 20 and 24 Guns, and 5 or 6 ſmall Gallies.

Copenhagen, Auguſt 31. Our Fleet under the Command of Admiral Rabe was to have ſailed from Steffens ſome Days ſince, but by our laſt Advices from thence we find they had ſtaid for a new Supply of Canon Ball, and Beer, and were ſtill at Anchor Yeſterday near the Bay of Kiog; but we expect that the Admiral will now ſail with the firſt fair Wind, he having received ſome Orders ſealed, which he is not to open till he comes near the Iſland of Bornholm. We flatter our ſelves here that the Muſcovite Fleet will ſuddenly come and join ours. A Placard has been publiſh'd here ſome Days ſince relating to the Commerce with both Altena and Hamburg, in which Places it is repreſented that ſome Marks of a contagious Diſtemper have appeared.

Copenhagen, September 3. The remaining Tranſports, which were waiting for Convoy ſome time under the Iſland of Mona, having not been able to ſtir by reaſon of the ſtormy Weather which we have had of late, Vice-Admiral Troyel returned laſt Week and joyn'd Admiral Rabe near Steffens; and on Friday laſt the 30th in the Evening all the Daniſh Fleet, conſiſting of 19 Ships of the Line, weighed Anchor by Order from the King, and as we judge are gone firſt to convoy thoſe Tranſports towards the new Deep, being afterwards to cruize on the Coaſt of Rugen in order to cover Vice-Admiral Sehеſtedt during his Operations, and to hinder any Succours coming from Sweden. We are aſſured that 7 or 8 light Muſcovite Frigats have been on the Coaſt of Jotland to view it, the Czar having a Deſign to make himſelf Maſter of that Iſland.
